

Spectrum Command Propagation Tool

Registration & Licensing

Thank you for using the Spectrum Command Propagation Tool, developed by N5XO for the amateur radio community.

The program includes a 20-day evaluation period, beginning with the first activation. During this period, you can operate and evaluate the software before deciding whether you wish to register it.

After the 20-day evaluation period expires, the program must be registered to continue operating.

Registration Fee — $10.00

Registration is $10.00 and licenses your copy for the entire life of that major version. There are no monthly or annual subscription fees.

For example, if you register a release in the Version 1.x series, your registration remains valid throughout that version series.

Registration helps us:

- Track the number of amateur radio operators using the software and its overall popularity.
- Maintain the websites and online resources supporting Spectrum Command software.
- Provide continued technical support.
- Continue development, testing, and improvement of the software.
- Develop additional features and future Spectrum Command amateur radio applications.

Major Version Upgrades — $5.00

Minor updates and maintenance releases within your registered major version do not require you to purchase a new registration.

When a significant new major version is released — for example, moving from Version 1.9 to Version 2.0 — registered users may upgrade for $5.00.

The $5.00 upgrade registration is then valid for the entire new major-version series.

Major upgrades are completely optional. You are never required to upgrade simply because a newer version becomes available. If your existing registered version meets your needs, you may continue using it.

New major versions may provide additional capabilities, improvements, or features that you can choose to obtain by upgrading.
